JUDGE SENTENCES 2 WHO PLEADED GUILTY IN COURT

Franklin DeHaven, Quakertown R. D., Paul Weil. Get Year to 23 Months

CHARGES OF THEFTS

Were Scheduled To Be Taken To Lehigh County To Plead Guilty There

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 6 - Judge Biester on Tuesday sentenced Franklin Dellaven, 28, of Quakertown RD 1, and Paul Elmer Weil, 20, of Locust Valley, Lehigh county, to serve one year to 23 months in the Bucks County Prison, and to pay one-half the costs apiece in a criminal case against them. They pleaded guilty to charges of stealing gasoline, chickens, ducks and soybeans from several Bucks county farms.

The same pair were to be taken to Lehigh County court where they planned to plead guilty to similar offenses in that jurisdiction-five cases all told. Both men have jobs and are married. They earn enough to keep their families but could not give Judge Biester a reason why they went out and stole gasoline and chickens. State Police of the Quakertown sub-station testified that the defendants stole gasoline and poultry from the farms of John Roth on February 4. near Zion Hill: chick- HERE AND THERE IN ens and ducks from Peter Saluka on Feb. 11 and gasoline from George Hoppe the same night. All places are near Zion Hill.

Weil testified that he and De Haven planned the thefts ahead of time and that they and their families enjoyed chicken dinners on several occasions. They both said Continued on Page Eight

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS By FRANK R. KENT

McCarthy and The Country lowing in his fight.

Washington, April 6. McCarthy has offered no real proof of either his blanket or specific charges of Communist saturation in the State Department, nevertheless he is strongly supported by the public generally throughout the country. Testimony to that effect comes from newspapers, such as the Washington Evening Star, who judge by the volume and character of letters from their readers and from politicians who keep in close touch with their constituents.

THIS is the more significant as the great bulk of press and radio commentators and columnists have been vehemently critical, not to say denunciatory, of Senator McCarthy from the start. He has been denounced - and with considerable truth-as reckless and irresponsible; as having, without justification, assailed the character of eminent Americans, such as Dr. Owen William Warner & Sons $ 5.00 McMahon. Lattimore, Dr. Philip Jessup, Mrs. Thomas Rosakis . Dorothy Kenyon and others; as Coffey's Hardware having damaged the prestige of his Elmer Harbison country abroad in a time of acute crisis; as having inspired an attack Vandegrift's service upon Secretary of State Acheson Parkway Inn ... well calculated to weaken our foreign policy, deeply disturbing our allies as well as heartening our potential enemy.

A STORM of almost unprecedented Reedman Pontiac violence has descended upon Mr. McCarthy's head. Not since 1917. when the late Senator Robert M. La Follette opposed our entry into Hollywood barber shop World War I., has any member of Karp's store & cafe Congress been as severely excori-Fusco's Cafe ated. A good deal of this has been Finegan's Pharmacy deserved. How, then, in the absence of any genuine confirming evidence, is the public support for Senator McCarthy to be accounted for? Unemotionally analyzing the situation, detached men, most of whom feel that the forced resignation of Mr. Acheson would be a calamity, give what seems the only sign in the Want Ad columns. adequate answer: Briefly, it is this-a majority of the people believe (and believed before Mc-Carthy raised his voice) that there is something rotten in the State Department.

THE contention is that this belief is justified. Three years ago, it is pointed out, when Whittaker Chambers first told his fantastic story before the Un-American Activities Committee naming Alger Hiss and others, the committee was violently assailed. President Truman called the whole thing a "red herring." The State Department rushed valiantly to Mr. Hiss' defense and many conspicuous friends warmly espoused his cause. The "liberal" commentators who now denounce McCarthy were even more denunciatory then of Hiss' accusers. In the end, one of the men named by Chambers committed suicide by jumping out a window. Another— Mr. Julian Wadleigh — confessed under oath, claiming immunity because his traitorous acts were more than ten years old. And Mr. Hiss, after two concededly fair trials. was convicted. Considering these facts, it is not surprising that Mr. Acheson's two unfortunate Hiss statements should have been misconstrued by the public generally as another defense of Mr. Hissand should be resented.

WHILE this feeling was still intense, Senator McCarthy burst forth with his charges. It is hardly strange that part of the public was not too much impressed with the denunciation and denials — nor stopped to consider that Mr. Mc-Carthy had extremely little with which to back up his sensational allegations. The denunciations and denials could not fail to have a familiar ring. In the midst of all this, their confusion was increased and their resentment enhanced by the statement of Deputy Under Secretary of State Puerifoy that the department had dismissed nearly 100 homosexual State Department employes as "bad security risks."

REVELATION of this situation. which had not been charged by Senator McCarthy, came as a hock. Not much has been made of it in the press but politicians cenerally agree that their contituents have been more revolted this voluntary disclosure than by anything else. How, they ask, did there come to be so many of these unfortunate individuals in the employ of the Government and why is the concentration so leavy in the State Department?

And how many more of them are Miscellaneous Business there besides those enumearted by Mr. Puerifoy? There seems no ade quate answers to these questions. but considering everything, it is bility, Senator McCarthy should have a large and sympathetic fol-

IT IS contended that while Senator IT IS unfortunate but easy to undone about it but the resignation of Mr. Acheson would not help. He would be far too difficult to replace. Perhaps time is the only cure. Perhaps, after the McCarthy charges have been completely disposed of, by Judge Biester as follows: the State Department will thorpeople. CAMEO DRAW-DRAPES in "SOUTH PACIFIC" FABRICS

For your pretty-as-a-picture window, frame them in the new Cameo Travacord Drapes.

Simply pull the cord and yards of wonderful fabric cover your window. Enjoy both beauty and privacy. Pull ... and the window is beautifully framed with folds of deftly tailored drapes. Cameo Travacords are blind-stitched for that "custom tailored" look . . . pinch pleated for a decorator effect.

You'd hardly believe they were so thrifty!

HIGH SCHOOL NINE PREPARES TO OPEN BASEBALL SEASON

Bristol High is preparing for its third baseball season under the direction of Coach Jerry Bloom. The Bristol League. Warriors are after their third straight Lower Bucks County League crown and if successful will three in basketball and three in

For the past week, Coach Bloom has had his infield and outfield candidates doing limbering up exercises. The boys have not had actual batting and fielding practice, this being scheduled for next week.

However, the pitching and catching candidates have been throwing them in earnest. Leading candidates for the hurling corps are: "Jimmy' Morrell, Harry Eisenbrey, "Bill" Condit, Joe Pindar, Lane Conn, and Bob Lewis. The receivers are Frank Barbetta, Joe Dominick, and "Lou"

Loeffler Coach Bloom received two bad breaks when Dave Muth withdrew from school and "Sammy" Petrizzi was declared overage for baseball. Muth had been depended upon to carry the bulk of the mound work.

Morrell is the only experienced umph over the up-state quintet. hurler left from last season's squad. Barbetta did the bulk of the catching last season.

Holdovers from last season in addition to Dominick, and Pindar, who also play the outfield, are: "Bill" Moll. Marty Braam, Vito Bascio, and Frank Rich.

In addition two sophomores, Raul Stevens and Frank Lucenti, appeared to be excellent material while competing for Junior High last year and may give some of the hold-overs a fight for positions.

Coach Bloom announced yesterday that on April 17th, the Warriors will play Bristol Township in an independent contest. Bristol opens its league season against Bensalem the following day.

Discuss Plans For Suburban Softball League

Plans were discussed for the forthcoming season of the Bristol and son "Jerry," of Bristol, were Suburban Softball League last night. League advisor Thomas Juno presided.

Five teams have notified the league officers that they will be ready to start the season during the first week of May. The teams are: Second Ward, Tullytown, Fifth Ward Sporting Club, Fire Company No. 1, and Jefferson A. C.

Applications were received from two teams wishing to join the cir-

Total of 93 Seek Marriage Licenses At Doylestown During March

19 2ND ALTAR TRIP Fallsington.

provided 19 of the applicants for ington. Sunday supper guests were marriage licenses here during the month of March. There were total of 93 couples. There were 19 men and 19 women who made a return trip to the altar. Of all these divorcees, exactly threefourths were returning to the martial state within two years, and seven had received their severance papers since the first of the year.

There were forty in the underage group, eight grooms and 32 brides, four of the latter becoming wives at the age of 16.

Five couples past 50 years of age also put in bids for permission to wed, the oldest groom being 67 and the oldest bride admitting to 60 Summers. Six applicants had lost previous mates to death, one woman again taking vows after 23 years of widowhood.

Morrisville stood in third place, having stood five couples and two extra grooms and one other bride to the altar. Fourth place honors went to Quakertown, with ten bridal candidates. Newtown sent six and Hatboro, 7.

Philadelphia, as usual, overrode everything, with 26 grooms and 23 brides making license applications here, and 15 came across the river from Jersey. One male came from South Carolina and one bride gave her home state as Delaware.

In addition to these only four other middle-aislers were residents outside the county.
